LOCAL GOVERNMENTS EAT TAXES

Every citizen should pay closer attention to local government units.

Governor Meier of Oregon recently said that in his state out of $50,000,000 raised for taxes, less than $7,000,000 goes for state purposes while the remaining $43,000,000 represents local levies.

We will not have lower taxes until we demand efficiency and economy from every local official, as well as from United States Senators and high state officials.

AN OBJECT LESSON FOR ALL

Here is something for the tax assessors to think about: According to the Chicago Tribune, only a fourth of the owners of personal property in Cook county, Illinois, are assessed for taxes and fewer than a fifth of those assessed pay anything. Those who pay are only 4.99 per cent of the owners.

In Chicago only one out of fifty owners of personal property pay. In the country town, one pays out of each five owners. Thus, of the owners of personal property, ten times as many pay in the country towns as within Chicago.

These are some of the deductions obtained from a study made of the 1929 taxes by County Treasurer Joseph B. McDonough.

Rural members of the Illinois revenue committee have urged a vigorous enforcement of the personal property laws, while some Chicago members have urged that a strict enforcement would drive personal property out of Chicago.

If ten times as many pay personal property taxes in country towns as in Chicago, a good way for the state to collect on Chicago personal property now escaping, would be to drive it out of the city into the country, where it could be checked up.

This tax situation undoubtedly applies in other states. Before new methods of taxation and increased tax burdens are heaped upon already over-burdened taxpayers and industries, a determined effort should be made to round up the property now failing to pay taxes, but which is liable to payment under our existing laws.

A MORAL FOR "REFORMERS"

Those who advocate anti-revolver and pistol laws because of the prevalence of crime are on shaky ground. The sawed-off shotgun and sub-machine gun are the modern weapons whose operation involves little skill and whose destructive powers are a thousand times that of any small arm.

It is not improbable that crime flourishes today partly because so few homes and offices are protected by arms. A good many cities and states have rigid anti-gun ordinances, and in others the requirements for owning a weapon are so involved that the average citizen does not go through the necessary red tape. This is not an argument in favor of all of us going about the streets armed—but it certainly is evidence of a condition which gives potential law-breakers an advantage by making it difficult for the law-abiding citizen to protect his home or place of business.

We have done many absurd things in the name of crime prevention. We have passed liberty-restricting laws, thus giving us more laws to break. We have penalized the good citizen in the hope that this ordinance or that would miraculously cut down crime. As a result, the United States is the greatest law-breaking civilized country on earth. There is a sound moral here, if the "reformers" care to look for it.

MORE FOR THE ROAD DOLLAR

It is estimated by the federal bureau of roads that expenditures for highways will reach the record total of $2,500,000,000 in 1931. We are now getting more for our road dollar than ever before, in rural localities.

There is an increased tendency toward constructing moderate cost, secondary farm or feeder roads of mud and dust proof surfaces. These have been made possible by the modern application of asphaltic road oils. Only in this way can farming regions be taken out of the mud and given good, safe roads on a large scale.

Ships Idle "Because of the American Tariff"

Here, in the Gare Loch near Edinburgh, are more than twenty of the finest of Great Britain's merchant ships, all idle for lack of cargoes. And the British believe this is the result of the United States tariff.

Radio Records Can Be Used On Regular Machines--Gilbert

Louise (Bertha) Gilbert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. James, of Antioch, writes an interesting comment upon an article printed last week as follows:

Made Only for Radio.

Phonograph records made for radio broadcasting—known as electrical transcriptions—cannot be played on home phonographs. Although these appear to be similar they are made for radio purposes only, and they differ from the standard phonograph record. Is Not True.

Miss Gilbert claims that this is not true. Records made for broadcasting differ from those made for sale only in that they are louder and sharper, due to the fact that when they are put on the air, the scratch is so noticeable that an eliminator is used, with the result that the broadcast is very like the real performance.

However, there are records 16 inches in diameter which run the full 15-minute time that are used for many programs, which cannot be played on a regular machine. These have not been perfected as yet, and are not entirely satisfactory for broadcasts.

Miss Gilbert has made about 200 records for broadcasting which have been used from coast to coast. She has had entire direction of orchestra and vocal groups, while Bill Hay was the announcer. Her next two programs will be "Little Buster Popcorn" on the NBC chain opening September 25, and "Minneapolis Honeywell," on September 29.

Moose Defeat Firemen Twice; Lose to Rivals

The strong Antioch Moose team was unable to regain its lead in the soft ball league this week, after Lake Villa showed them to another defeat to the tune of 11-5 Thursday, when a 7-inning game was played.

Lake Villa has played three less games than the Moose. Members of the Antioch team are strongly hoping to stage an upset in the future encounters with their rivals.

Fuchs and Reznar were Lake Villa's heavy hitters while Halting was the only one who hit more than a single for the Moose. Telde held the local team to seven hits, five of which materialized into runs, and although Shunnesson allowed but eleven hits, he walked several men, which increased the score.

After an easy 8-1 victory over the Firemen Sunday, the Moose were surprised in the second game at the remarkable comeback staged by their opponents, who gave them a real battle, and were finally defeated by two runs, 14-12.

The second game was a real game in every respect—batters for both teams were sending the ball sizzling out into the field, and making most of the hits count. Hallwas and Shunnesson were the chief Moose sockers, and Hughes, Bown and Drom, Firemen, each took three hits from Shunnesson, Moose pitcher.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Christ Jesus" was the subject in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, August 30.

The Golden Text was, "We know that the Son of God is come, and hath given us an understanding, that we may know him that is true, and we are in him that is true, even in his Son Jesus Christ" (1 John 5:20).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "And the Word was made flesh, and dwelt among us, (and we beheld his glory, the glory as of the only begotten of the Father,) full of grace and truth. And of his fulness have all we received, and grace for grace" (John 1:14, 16).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Christ is the true idea of good, the divine message from God to men speaking to the human consciousness. . . . Jesus was the son of a virgin. He was appointed to speak God's word and to appear to mortals as a form of humanity as they could understand as well as perceive" (p. 332).

CHANNEL LAKE COUNTRY CLUB NEWS

Although the card party of last Saturday night was attended by a small group of members, it was a very jolly party, and the honors of the evening were awarded to the highest total for couples, instead of individuals. Mr. and Mrs. Gnaedinger won the highest total, and Mr. and Mrs. Sandell the second score.

The second and last card tournament of the season was ended this week on Tuesday, and awards went to Mrs. Max Mauermann, Mrs. Henry Paulson, Mrs. Harry Arms, Mrs. Ernest Brook and Mrs. E. J. Gnaedinger. The high scores for the day were won by Mrs. Arms, Mrs. Paulson and Mrs. Brook, and the guest prize went to Mrs. Edna Nilsson.

This being the final week for regular club activities, many events are scheduled, and the last tournament golf games will be played off. The special event for the ladies on Thursday morning is a "2-ball foursome," which expects to start from the first tee as nearly 10 as possible. Many of the club members are planning to attend the gala events in Antioch, in honor of our mayor, Anton J. Cermak.

Friday is another full day, with the annual business meeting at 11 a. m., which will be followed by a luncheon and benefit card party. A large attendance is hoped for, for the entire day, and guests are most cordially invited for luncheon and cards.

The last dance of the season is scheduled for Saturday night at 9:30 p. m. This affair is always one of our big nights of the year and we trust this year will be no exception.

Many of the cottagers are planning to remain for a few weeks longer, and the Tuesday card parties will continue at the club probably through the month of September.

PALACE PRESENTS FINE CARD FOR LABOR DAY CROWD

Ernie Kratochvil to Meet
Wis. Golden Gloves
Champ in Windup

A fine card of cracker-jack boxers has been arranged for the arena at the Antioch Palace tomorrow night, with Ernie Kratochvil, an old-timer at the Palace, scheduled with Mike Kamis, Chicago, for the wind-up bout. Kamis has lost but one decision in his last forty starts, and is reckoned a dangerous foe for the Wisconsin Golden Gloves winner.

Jimmy Eliopolous, Central States A. A. U. champion, will appear in the semi-windup against Babe Cormier, Fox valley champion.

Scrappy preliminary bouts will be staged between Joe Roman of Joliet and Gene Higgins, Chicago, in the 127-pound division; Phil Pernice and Joe Lupino; Tony Pernice and Tony Bruno; Joey Kratochvil, Racine, and Bruce Ferro, Milwaukee; and others.

Last Week Sees Fine Show.

Fans at the ring-side last week saw a fine wind-up bout, when Billy Elmer of Cleveland knocked Babe Cormier, of Joliet, about the ring, and finally sunk him with fast right crosses and jabs.

A knock-out was staged in the third round of the Burns-Kamis fight, when Mike Kamis knocked his opponent down three times in a fierce body attack.

After three rounds of close fighting between Phil Pernice, Chicago, and Joe Roman, Joliet, the match was awarded to Roman.

Leo Reniere of Chicago lost a close one to Gene Higgins, also of Chicago, when he was forced into a defensive game.

After three rounds, the bout between Jimmy Hagner, Elgin, and Valentine Pinka, Joliet, was called a draw, but in the fourth round, Hagner was given the decision.

In the bouts between the other Chicago fighters, Joe Lupino defeated Johnny Farrell, Nick Flamoras beat Johnny Connelly, and Billy Lorenz took a close one from Tony Pernice.

Mickey Rafferty is expecting a large Labor Day crowd for this week's bouts.

Think It Over

Taxpayers' Questions

Do not taxpayers wonder why the city dads mess around with regulations about bakeries, laundries, and ice cream joints when they could do a real job by lowering street car fares, and gas and electric rates?

How many charitable taxpayers are willing to trust their donations to the same old hand-picked committee, chosen by the civic clique that tries to run everything and everybody?

Why does it cost a taxpayer $2.18 per head to get criminal justice in the county seat?

After the county traffic survey is over, what scheme is next for taxpayers to pay for?

Why do taxpayers wonder so much about unsolved racketeer murders?

If taxpayers of Waukegan receive wage cuts and work short weeks, why not cut salaries and lay off some of our pensioners, stool pigeons and incompetents around the public offices?

When will there be a return to the public treasury of money expended illegally, especially for the court house inspections by a supervisor?

If a public official who charges for housing his car, donated by the taxpayers, is elected an auditor, will he charge rent for using his pockets as a receptacle for lead pencils?

Is not the militant taxpayers' organization a great thing to keep penny politicians and crooked candidates straight?

If a local newspaper declares that an airport and a lake shore drive are necessary in a progressive program, what about the financial standing of a city and the taxpayers' burdens?

Is any wonder that taxpayers rumored that some of the ballyhoo men in the civic clubs and newspaper rack-ets are tools of special interests when it is proposed to buy land at $3,500 per acre or airports and shore drives? Will their next stunt be to evade just taxes?

What small home owning taxpayer thinks that the interests that are always looking out for the big end, will ever stop racketeering on tax valuations in a friendly press?

When a bank goes into the retail trade and begins with blankets and bathroom scales, should not the taxpayers put their coin in the silk stocking safety deposit?

Why is there a charge for rides on the taxpayers' slide at the bench in Waukegan?

Why should taxpayers pay $50 per month extra to a fireman to fix alarm systems, when he is on the payroll at $175 per month?

Why is coke shipped from Detroit to Waukegan and sold as cheap as locally made coke? Should taxpayers provide alms to buy such coke?

When Chicago is to get lower gas rates from the natural gas supply, what about the reductions the late commission broadcast so much about before election?

Can the school board encourage thrift with the banks closed on hundreds of thousands of tax money, to say nothing about the kiddies' pennies?

How many taxpayers read the signs in the banks, "Go to your banker for advice"?

Why did not the water main experts at $10,000 find the 2-inch water main leaks at Spring street and Madison? Did they think it was all spring?

Why do not professional bondsmen put up coin or produce their men?

Is it economical to reduce a bond from $5,000 to $3,000 if the result is other dirty work at the cross roads?

If there is no local improvement work in the county seat, why the salaries?

Should the taxpayers put up $7,500 per year for a highway expert when so many are homeless and helpless?

All audits and reports to the contrary, what taxpayer really believes Waukegan has 30 cents in real money?

Do taxpayers know the parties interested in the old Y. W. C. A. property in Waukegan?

What taxpayer would not take $50 per year to wind the town clock that does not exist?

Did a former public official have a Flying Cloud furnished him at the taxpayers' expense while he received $8 per month for housing his family car? If so, should such a man be elected a county auditor?

Who are the county officials who are trying to interpret the law so that

"And ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free"

IF PROMISES WERE KEPT DEPRESSION WOULD BE UNKNOWN

Public Officials Believing Honesty to Be Best Policy Are Rare

If no promises were made which were impossible to fulfill, and if all promises made were fulfilled, depression would cease to be. Many public officials would be abolished, expense at elections would be reduced to a minimum, credit would be firm, there would be no wild-cat schemes, the home and church would be respected, and communities would prosper. If—

How many promises are worth the breath used in making them? The highest tribute to any person is that "His word is as good as his bond." Of how many people can you say that today?

Politicians will make promises as fast as a horse will run but break them at automobile speed. Pete and his ten disciples still go up to the barn, and the taxpayers still are paying the engineer that made the "$10,000 mistake" on Docket 735, N. Jackson street paving.

They all promised a reduction in taxes, but Lake county faces a higher tax than ever.

Bankers accept your hard-earned cash as a deposit. By accepting they promise to be a safe custodian for your coin. Some high pressure official in a Chicago bank sells them a gold brick and away goes their promise and your savings.

A woman promises to love, honor and obey some man, and the next thing the poor sinner is paying alimony. Chambers of commerce, civic clubs and brotherhoods will promise to do things for the good of the city. But who is the city? Is it a few racketeers with something to unload on the innocent taxpayer public?

Real estate men, automobile salesmen, furniture dealers, clothiers and prune peddlers promise anything to make a sale. Many employers will promise the moon in a pinch, but let times get slack and where is the promise?

Utility magnates promise wonders for franchises, but what about their rates?

Thirteen-cents-a-quart dairies promise a reduction in cost to the consumers, but there is no action.

With all these promises, the farmers and the workers still get no relief in either costs or taxes.

This country needs action instead of a good 5-cent cigar. Actions speak louder than words, and bring quicker results than promises. Talk is cheap, but it takes money to buy 13-cent milk, and $1.35 gas, and pay 7-cent car fares.

Taxpayers, farmers and laborers, organize and compel these poor miserable office holders to get into action and get this country out of the hole.

TAXPAYERS ARE "FED UP" WITH TAXES AND GRAFT

Taxpayers and property owners of Lake county are fed up with "grab, graft, and greed," and protest certain existing conditions and persons, including:

Thirteen-cent milk and high taxes. Tax evaders and assessment belly-achers.

Charity drives. Tramp editors and sickening editorials and news items.

The chamber of commerce and civic clubs trying to run officers when their members can't run their own businesses.

Land at 3,500 per acre for a lake shore drive. Low prices for farms and produce. Wage cuts.

High costs for coal gas, car fuels and electric lights. Public utilities getting everything they want, even low taxes. Fixed and friendly juries. Pious politicians. Lifeguards and hamburgers. Red meetings. Borrowed cars. Printing contracts.

Who will be able to provide a flying field at the taxpayers' expense?

What taxpayer enjoys the editor who takes credit for everything at the county seat but never says a word about lower prices for milk, coal, gas or electric lights?

Go To Banker For Advice? It All Depends

With the closing of two banks in Waukegan, a series of events are set in motion which will cast their effects for years to come on the community.

In any community the bank heads are considered to be men of sound sense and good judgment, hard-headed, honest, and with the good of the community at heart. When school children lose their savings, what reaction do they experience? Will they, at their impressionable age ever have confidence in any business house?

Property owners, skimping, and pinching to save money for taxes and extra special assessments, find their funds locked up and their property in jeopardy of tax sales.

Farmers planning on a new house or barn, a much needed farm machine, or an addition to the dairy herd, has his cash tied up without knowing how long.

Home owners, saving to pay off the mortgage, learn they will be paid only a small fraction of their hard-earned coin.

Teachers, preachers, doctors, lawyers, merchants, butchers, men, women, old and young, are all sufferers for the acts of a few.

Men who have worked all their lives and are due to retire and enjoy a few years of life, grimly realize that during all these years when they toiled and labored, sweated and slaved, they put their trust unwisely. Why had they not "put on the dog," as some bankers and civic leaders?

Can those responsible for such a financial plight ever have the brass to face honest hard-working people who put their trust in the institutions they represented?

Taxpayers Seek to Find Basic Cause for Bank Failures

All Blunders of Speculating Officials Must Be Paid in Taxes

When any bank fails, it affects every person in the community, regardless whether they were all depositors or not. One who did not do business with that particular bank is less affected than one who did, but he still gets pinched in the jam.

As there was money in these banks belonging to waterworks No. 2, the city, the county, and the state, and, as the situation now stands, neither bank will pay depositors in full, it looks as if the taxpayer public is due to lose money they have already paid in as taxes. Just how much no one knows, but anything lost is too much under present conditions.

Tax money lost, stolen or misappropriated or unpaid, must be made up, so the only answer is more taxes to be paid for blunders.

Who is to blame? Are those having charge of the collection of money? Does some governing body tell them where to put it? Does this body ask some competent official if the bank is safe and sound? Do wildcat banks outbid each other in interest rates in order to get public deposits? Do any politicians get a side split on the interest? Didn't the $100,000 Pearsall-Bracher deal show some of the juggling of public funds?

Was there a diabolical scheme afoot to wreck a bank for the benefit of a Chicago bank gang? Is this Chicago bank the same as the one that has the water certificates for the filtration plant? Are certain interests anxious that the interest payments be defaulted on these bonds? Is it a plan to let some private concern get control of the people's water plant?

Why did certain utilities have so much leeway about the installation of equipment? Why was the control taken from the city officers and given to an unheard of water board? Wasn't the president of a busted bank a member of this created water board? Were any of his associates and fellow bank directors also members of this thing? When will those responsible come clean, confess, and take their medicine, and do their little stretch?

Queer Customs "At a foreign wedding I attended," says a correspondent, "the bride was given a pomegranate to throw on the floor. What was the significance?" It is an eastern symbol. The number of seeds is held to indicate the size of the family to be established.

PEOPLE ENJOINED TO ELECT HONEST TAX ASSESSORS

Some assessors are chosen by political pull, some by friends anxious to give them a job at the taxpayers' expense, and a few are chosen for their ability.

How many of these men know property values? How many know what depreciation means? How many compare values with corresponding property in other localities?

Can't they be approached in their business by interests wanting low taxes? Do they assess the "big fellow" in the same proportion as the little home owner?

Is the small property owner assessed at one-third his boom time value while a favored few get by on an assessment of one-tenth their hard times values?

If so, who carries the tax burden? Are these assessors all willing to accept the personal property schedule turned in, without a close scrutiny? Farmers and working men who can load all your furniture in a wheelbarrow are assessed for at least $100. Do these concerns that send you a bill each month for service rendered, schedule their coal, oil and stocks on hand?

With fair, honest assessors there should be no kick on assessments. With no complaints the board of review would not be needed and another tax-eating body could be abolished. Of course, no one has as yet answered the question, "Why is the board of review?" and probably no one can.

Property owners, look well to your assessor. If you are stung, put in a good one next election. If you have an honest, conscientious one, stick by him. Help him fight his battle for equalization of taxes for the small home owner. Selfish favored interests will oppose him and try to pass the tax back to you. Their stool pigeons, publicity men, and the press will belly-ache, but why let their foolish yammering upset a square deal? Stick by the honest assessor. He will save you money.

HOME OWNER GETS A BREAK

New Assessment Valuations Will Increase Land, Home Sales

A step in the long road leading to the return of prosperity is seen in the 1931 assessment roll for Waukegan, which will reveal, upon careful scrutiny, that the home owner finally has got a break. In many instances the valuations placed by Russ Alford, Waukegan's new assessor, have been reduced 50 per cent on small land holdings and homes, while a higher assessment has been apportioned to several of the large manufacturing plants and public utilities companies.

A piece of property on the north side of Waukegan, taxed $55 this year, was assessed $110 last year, while assessment on a 2-flat building on the south side dropped from $150 to $92, approximately.

Reduction in assessments on homes and property will tend to increase the sales for Waukegan realtors, particularly in the residential sections. Buying property will become a safe and even profitable investment into which one may put one's savings and realize upon them, according to a statement from the firm of T. J. Stahl and Company.

Land sales will increase other sales, and will attract insurance companies to the banks to Waukegan. The home owner will find it much easier to finance his new building. Money put into circulation by land sales instead of into taxes or tied up in banks will increase sales in every department, and eventually will lessen the unemployment.

A nation of home owners is strong enough to overcome the greatest trials, but while taxes on homes and lots more than eat up any saving in rents, what incentive is there to own dwellings?

Valuations for taxing purposes in the city of Waukegan for 1931 are $1,300,085 less than last year. As an increase in tax valuations of the large manufacturing plants was made by Russ Alford, much more than the $1,300,000 decrease in taxes goes to the home owner.

Two million dollars would enable thousands of persons in average circumstances to purchase a lot and build or refurbish a modest home.

Van Steuben Stamp The General Van Steuben commemorative stamp was issued to commemorate the two hundredth anniversary of the birth of General Baron Von Steuben and in recognition of his exceptional service rendered the colonial cause during the Revolutionary war by drilling and organizing the army.

Winnebago County's Personal Taxes

Winnebago county is boasting about its personal property results this year. With a population of less than 100,000 people, it claims 212 billiard tables against Cook county's 139. It paid taxes on 12,900 autos. Its planes were 1,226 against Cook's 3,796. It had 560 steam engines, while Cook had but 318. Other than bank credits, it paid taxes on $3,608,115, while Cook paid on $947,938. It has $36,825 in eating houses against Cook's $20,680. Cook paid 76 per cent of the inheritance taxes during 1922-1926, yet only 22 per cent of the states merchandise is in Cook county.

What is the answer for the rest of the Illinois counties that are paying high taxes on big valuations while Cook is dodging fair valuations and deadweighting tax payments at any valuation during a period that the downstate districts must kick in coin to keep the state out of insolvency.

Court's Ruling Halts Purchase of City Hall

An important victory for the Waukegan Taxpayers Association was gained yesterday when Justice Jones of the appellate court ruled to uphold the circuit court injunction barring the city of Waukegan from purchasing property on a contract subject to mortgage. Thus the Higley building is no more the city hall.

Purchase of the Higley property has been under fire since it was first conceived in 1928. Efforts to raise money for a new city hall by bond issue were unsuccessful, and the council, headed by Mayor L. J. Yager and Commissioners A. F. Carney, R. J. Pearsall, N. M. Keller and Wilson Gee, entered into a contract to purchase the Higley property on a contract and mortgage basis.

The Taxpayers Association, represented by Attorney Dan S. Wentworth, sought an injunction to halt the deal, which was refused by Circuit Judge Claire C. Edwards. His decision was reversed by the appellate court, and Judge Shurtliff granted the injunction.

The present administration, headed by Mayor Peter W. Petersen, is not interested in pushing an appeal, and is expected to move out within a few weeks. Several sites are under consideration.

PRESENT DAY CANUTE

This is Knut Holm who, according to Harold Hansen, the Danish genealogist and historian, is a direct descendant of King Canute who ruled England in the early years of the Eleventh century. Knut Holm is the only child of a young Danish farmer of the same name. For twenty-three generations all male Holms have been christened "Knut."

TO PROPOSE AN AMENDMENT TO FINN PAUPER ACT

Conditions under the Finn pauper act, which transferred the burden of the poor from the county to the townships, when the townships are prevented by legal restrictions from raising money for the poor until spring, have become so acute that direct action for relief will be proposed at the coming special session of the general assembly, through a resolution to amend the act, it was learned this week.

It is thought that the general assembly may amend the act sufficiently to care for the poor until the towns can raise money legally for the purpose. The new act has caused the burden to fall more heavily upon Waukegan than upon the country townships, which are not so populous.

Merchants may be asked to carry the burden until tax anticipation warrants can be issued.

To repeat an unkind truth is just as bad as to invent a lie.—Gilbert Hubbard.

FEDERATION OF AMER. BUSINESS ASKS CHARTER

Aims to Force Government from Competition with Private Business

A nationwide move to fight Communism and to get the government out of private business was launched last week at the G. O. P. rally, with the filing at Springfield of an application for a charter for the Federation of American Business.

Temporary organizations had been functioning for several months, but application for a charter was withheld until twenty states had been brought into the federation, it was announced.

Twenty-two major industries, including a large representation for farmers, agricultural trades, railroads, public utilities, and labor, were represented at a conference at the Union League Club, Chicago, Tuesday night, at which the permanent organization was voted.

Two of the leading incorporators are Bernard W. Snow, long active in Chicago Republican politics, and J. A. O. Preuss, Chicago lawyer, former Republican governor of Minnesota. Officers and directors will be announced immediately on the granting of the charter, it was stated at Chicago headquarters.

The purpose of the federation is to put an end to the undermining of the principles of American government by the encroachment of Socialism and Communism, which is taking form by putting the government into competition with private initiative in scores of different industries and businesses. This government enterprise is backed by taxes collected from individuals interested in private business.

The federation includes members interested in any and every form of business, industry, or investment, and is not a grouping together of the big business industries. Stockholders, savings banks depositors and owners of insurance policies are included as well as those active in labor or management of industry.

The organization proposes to organize public sentiment against further governmental encroachment in business, and to force the government out of the businesses and industries which it has invaded, recognizing only the right of the government to regulate the conduct of commerce and business to the extent necessary to insure the security of its citizens.

After organization has been completed in the states, counties, and precincts, it further proposes to exercise its power at the ballot box, by electing officials who will restore the government to its original purpose of giving every citizen the right to opportunity, and the enjoyment of property accumulated by merit.

Illinois has taken the lead among the dozen states in which the Federation of American Business is under the process of organization. The organization intends to co-operate with the American Federation of Labor, the American Legion, the United States Chamber of Commerce, the National League of Women Voters, and others, in their fight against governmental competition with private enterprise, which is held partially responsible for the present economic depression.

Public Market Seen As Means To Cut Down On Expense

A few years back, before the chamber of commerce and a few special interests dictated policies, the cities and towns had public markets where the farmers brought their produce, and people came, saw and carried their purchases home.

The goods were fresh, the weights and prices right, and buyer and seller were satisfied.

Now there are no public markets, the hawkers and peddlers clutter the streets, their goods are brought from Chicago, and the consumer pays two profits for an inferior article. To peddle this the city dads levy a license and this license fee passes on to the consumer.

The city has some vacant lots, purchased by officeholders with taxpayers' money. With two-thirds of the banks busted, little employment and low wages, why not create public markets on these public lots, and let the farmers bring their produce, and give the people a break?

Of course, all taxpayers realize the chamber of commerce and the fruit dealers and green grocers will set up a howl, which will be heard to high heaven. Let them howl—they howled for a lake shore drive and a dog will howl at the moon.

Isn't it bad enough to have your pockets picked for taxes, without being dictated to as to prices by a few "civic leaders"?

How to play Bridge AUCTION or CONTRACT

by Wynne Ferguson

Author of "PRACTICAL AUCTION BRIDGE"

Copyright, 1930, by Hoyle, Jr.

ARTICLE No. 23

We have just had another illustration of the popularity of Auction. A well-known manufacturer asking for numerous valuable prizes for the correct play of a problem hand. That it was an advertising scheme made no difference to the Auction and Contract players and the number of solutions received must have been enormous. During the contest the writer received many letters from correspondents asking that the problem and its correct solution be given after the awarding of the prizes. The award has been made, so the solution of the problem can now be given without breach of confidence.

Problem

Spades—6	Hearts—8, 5	Diamonds—A, K, 8, 6, 5, 3, 2	Clubs—A, K, 7
Spades—K, 10, 7	Hearts—9	Diamonds—Q, J, 10, 9, 7	Clubs—Q, 10, 8, 3
Spades—A, Q, J, 9	Hearts—A, K, J, 10, 4, 3	Diamonds—none	Clubs—9, 4, 2
Spades—8, 5, 4, 3, 2	Hearts—Q, 7, 6, 2	Diamonds—4	Clubs—J, 6, 5

Problem: If hearts are trumps and A leads the queen of diamonds, how can Y Z score a grand slam against any defense?

Solution: The problem is a grand slam for Y Z against any defense.

Trick No. 1—Y should win the first trick with the king of diamonds on which Z should discard the deuce (or any club) of clubs. No discard other than a club will solve it.

Trick No. 2—Y should lead the ace of diamonds and B has the choice of three plays: (a) a club discard; (b) a spade discard; (c) trump with the deuce of hearts. These are the only possible plays and it will be shown that Y Z can make a grand slam against any one of these plays. (a) a club discard by B should be followed by the nine of spades discard by Z.

Trick No. 3—Y should lead the five of hearts and finesse the ten in Z's hand.

Trick No. 4—Z should lead the four of clubs and win the trick in Y's hand with the king.

Trick No. 5—Y should lead the eight of hearts and finesse the jack of hearts. A should discard the eight of clubs.

Trick No. 6 to Trick No. 9 inclusive—Z should lead out his four top hearts and A is forced to make four discards. The first three are easy. He can discard two diamonds and one spade; but how about the fourth discard? If he discards a club, both of Y's clubs are good. If he discards the top diamond, Y's diamonds are good. If he discards another spade, all of Z's spades are good. His best defense is to discard the ten of clubs at trick nine. Y's four discards are diamonds.

Trick No. 10—Z leads the nine of Clubs and Y wins the trick with the ace. Trick No. 11—Y leads the seven of clubs. B's discard is immaterial. Z discards the jack of spades and A is again forced to discard. If he discards the top diamond, Y's diamond and Z's ace of spades will win the next two tricks. If he discards a spade, Z's two spades are good, so that Y Z must score the grand slam irrespective of A's play.

(b) Trick No. 2—Suppose B discards the deuce of spades. Z should trump the trick with the trey of hearts.

Trick No. 3—Z should lead the ace of spades, all following and

Trick No. 4—Z should lead the queen of spades. It is immaterial whether or not A covers with the king. If he does, Y should trump with the five of hearts. If A refuses to play the king at trick No. 4, Y should discard a diamond. No. 5 A trick No. 5 A is forced to play the king and Y then should trump with the five of hearts. As the result is the same in either case and doesn't affect the solution, we will assume that A plays the king of spades at trick No. 4 and that Y trumps.

Trick No. 5—Y should lead the eight of hearts and finesse the ten of hearts.

Tricks No. 6 and 7—Z should lead the jack and nine of spades. A's one discard is immaterial. Y should discard two diamonds and B follows suit.

Trick No. 8—Z should lead the four of clubs and win the trick in Y's hand with the king.

Trick No. 9—Y should lead a diamond and B can either discard a club or trump. It is apparent that if he trumps, Z will overtrump, drop his remaining trumps and thus score the balance so B's best play is the club discard. Z should trump.

Trick No. 10—Z should lead his last club and win the trick in Y's hand with the ace. It is now apparent that Z must win the next three tricks as he holds the ace king, jack, of hearts over B's three to the queen. Hence Y Z again make a grand slam.

(c) Trick No. 2—Suppose B trumps the ace of diamonds. Z should over-trump.

Trick No. 3—Z should lead the ace of spades.

Trick No. 4—Z should lead the queen of spades and A should cover with the king. Whether or not he covers is immaterial as shown in (b) above, Y should trump and lead his remaining heart. Z should finesse the jack and drop B's remaining hearts. His cards are now all good so Y Z again score a grand slam.

False Solution: Should Z discard the nine of spades at trick No. 1, B can prevent a grand slam by trumping the ace of diamonds when led. Y Z must now lose one club trick.

Chimney Fires Preventable, Ins. Man Declares

Defective chimneys, together with stoves, furnaces, boilers, and their pipes, are probably the largest preventable causes of fire, says Mr. Johnson, of the Johnson Insurance Agency. It does not pay to take it for granted that, because your have had no trouble with your chimney thus far, it does not need attention. Soot accumulates rapidly in chimneys and in pipes, and every property owner should see that this soot is removed at frequent intervals.

There are, of course, concerns in nearly every community that make a practice of cleaning chimneys, but you can do this work yourself without any special equipment. One way of doing a good job is to tie a window weight or similar object on the end of a rope. A burlap bag may be wrapped around the weight and secured to the rope. Let this down the chimney when there is no fire in stoves or furnace. It will remove the accumulation of soot from the sides of the chimney. This should then be cleaned out at the bottom of the chimney which is, or should be, provided with a clean-out door for this purpose.

In the cleaning process, stove pipes should not be neglected. They should be taken down and thoroughly cleaned.

By taking these simple precautions you will avoid many chimney fires, many of which prove serious. If your chimney should catch fire, Mr. Johnson suggests the following action. The first thing to do is to close all drafts, including the check draft, cutting off as much as possible the supply of oxygen that will further feed the fire. Throw plenty of common salt right on the fire in stove or furnace.

If the chimney is so hot that there is danger of igniting adjacent woodwork, or if its condition is bad and sparks are coming through cracks, if sparks and glowing particles from the top of the chimney are blowing against a dry wood shingle roof or if for any other reason you believe that the building is in danger of catching fire, call your fire department at once. It does not pay to take any chances with fire.

The great majority of chimney fires are preventable, says Mr. Johnson, and it is most important that chimneys and pipes should be thoroughly cleaned and inspected at least twice a year.

SUMMER SWALLOWS | By Jane Rogers

THE clink of ice in a tall glass filled with a frosty fruit beverage is one of the most inviting of all possible sounds on a hot summer afternoon. There is every reason why we should always be ready to accept the invitation. Refreshing coolness aside, the fruit juices are splendid suppliers of needed vitamins, while the sugar is nature's quickest acting source of the energy needed to carry us through to the end of the day.

Grape Juice Nectar
Mix together one cup orange juice, one cup lemon juice, one quart grape juice, one pint pineapple juice. Add two cups of sugar and stir thoroughly. Add one bottle maraschino cherries, chopped. A few minutes before serving pour in two quarts charged water and add sufficient ice to chill.

Baked Beans For Brawn

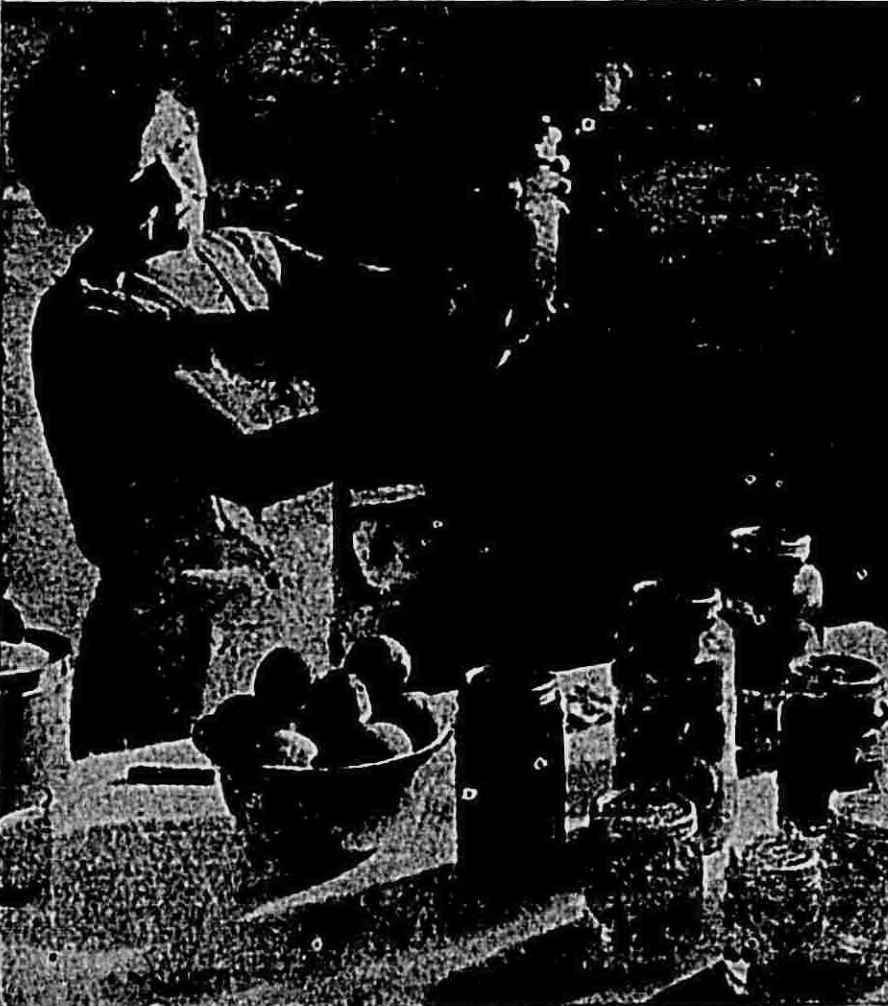

THIS summer while Junior is away in the country, you expect him to grow at least an inch, and come back brown and brawny with clear eyes and rosy cheeks. It takes a he-boy to eat enough food to grow that coveted inch, and it takes he-food to make a boy brawny. They do it with beans in the United States Army, so here are a couple of bean recipes in which sufficient energy is stored away for some good long hikes, several swims, and a lot of running.

Baked Beans Parmesan: Sauté one small diced onion and one diced canned pimiento in two tablespoons butter till golden brown. Add the contents of a No. 2 can of bean hole beans, one-eighth teaspoon pepper and three tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese, and heat thoroughly. Serve very hot, garnished with sweet shirkins. Serves four.

Try 'Em With Sausages
Baked Beans with Sausages: Chop one small onion fine, dice one small green pepper, add to the contents of a No. 2 can of tomatoes with one teaspoon sugar and salt and pepper to taste. Cook gently ten minutes, add the contents of a one pound twelve-ounce can of New England oven-baked beans and pour into a buttered flat, shallow baking dish. Arrange twelve pork sausages over the top and place in a hot oven. When sausages brown on top, turn over, reduce heat, and cook slowly forty-five minutes to an hour. Serves six.

TIME TO GROOM
YOUR FLOWERS FOR THE ANTIOCH FAIR

Amateur Growers Are Given
Opportunity to Exhibit
"Pet" Plants

Beauty ran riot about many Antioch homes this summer in the flower and rock gardens, particularly during the early season before the heat and dry weather combined to scorch them. Then the gay petunia and the sturdy portulaca came into their own, in flower boxes, about houses and garages, and on city avenues.

It brings pleasure and satisfaction to cultivate beautiful gardens in spite of the odds—to be able to win first prize on zinnias, after those of your neighbors have long since crumpled to dust in the heat.

Nearly everyone has better luck with certain kinds of plants than with others, due to soil and local weather conditions, and the amount of knowledge the grower possesses about the individual peculiarities of the plants.

Plan for Exhibit.
The Antioch-Lake Villa Country Fair is little more than a month away. Now is the time for plant and flower growers to look over their gardens, select several kinds of flowers which are adapted particularly to the soil, and which, with careful attention, will be in their prime by the fair, and begin trimming, watering, and "grooming."

Professional and amateur growers will show separately, thus giving those who raise flowers as a hobby a fine opportunity to become a prizewinner in their class. The rules for flower exhibits, and the list of flowers which may be shown are to be found in class D of the floriculture section in the official catalog issued by the association.

All flowers must be grown by the exhibitor. In judging cut flowers, the stems as well as the individual flowers will be considered, and the stems should not be less than 12 inches long, with the exception of small flowers, such as pansies.

Common Flowers Listed.
Among the flowers listed which the amateur gardener may succeed in having in bloom at the time of the fair are zinnias, marigolds, cockscomb, snapdragons, asters, perennial phlox, dahlias, gladioli, overlastings, sweet williams, cosmos, chrysanthemums. Prize will be given also for the best arranged basket of flowers, and for the best display of cut flowers.

Any variety of potted plants may be exhibited, among them the various kinds of fern, including Boston and asparagus, double and single oleanders, fuchsias and geraniums, climbing and rose geraniums, primroses, palms, cacti, sword plant, English ivy, umbrella plant, hibiscus, wax plant, begonias, lantanas, glorioles, and begonias.

CHILDREN WILL HAVE LEADERS
GOOD AND BAD

"Follow the Leader" Is Not Always to Be Desired for Schoolmates

By Dorothy Hughes.

Only one child in every group can be a real leader, and whether he or she is truly a leader or just a ringleader is a puzzling problem to many parents whose children's lives are more or less controlled in play hours by these independent spirits.

When children start to school it is inevitable that they will come under the influence of others whose wills are stronger than theirs—unless they happen to be some of the few leaders. It is impossible for average parents in normal circumstances to be certain which of their child's associates are wielding clean, wholesome influences, and which are infecting their playmates with coarse vulgarity.

Parents' Opposition Falls.
Opposition of the parents to their child's favorite companion is rarely successful. It breeds either wilful disobedience, or a sense of isolated egotism, or superiority to his playmates.

Whenever the youngster's companions can be selected without unnecessary discussion, as is possible to those in circumstances which permit choice in school, locality, or residence, it is desirable. However, in ordinary cases, it has been found more successful for the parents themselves, by their companionship and understanding, to counteract whatever undesirable contacts their children may have made.

Children cannot be kept in ignorance forever. If they learn of evil, it does not follow that they must become evil, unless no other atmosphere is provided. Rather, it gives them an opportunity to distinguish right from wrong, and gives them a more reliable sense of values, if directed understandingly from the home.

Refrigerator May Be Kept Stocked
For Pick-Up Meal

A Spiced Pear and a Cheese Sandwich Tickle the Palate

An article in a recent issue of one of the leading women's current magazines spoke of the refrigerator as allied to the fireplace as a suggestion of the spirit of the home.

Anyway, what the refrigerator contains is of major interest to all the members of the family, when they come home at all hours demanding a bite to eat. Certain foods lend themselves most admirably to these any-hour snacks.

If the icebox contains any of the dairy products, milk, butter or cheese, and eggs, the foundation of a pick-up lunch is always on tap. Cheese crackers and sandwiches and a glass of milk make a satisfying lunch. The number of ways in which eggs can be quickly prepared are many: Egg-nog is a popular hastily mixed drink to satisfy both hunger and thirst. Omelets or fried eggs are delicious on a cool evening, with bacon or ham.

Something to Nibble on.
Left-over meats are ideal to slice for quick sandwiches. With cold meat, lettuce, mayonnaise, bread and butter one can prepare a plateful of sandwiches in a jiffy.

Then, of course, fruits, pickles, and relishes are necessary auxiliaries to any meal, prepared or snatched.

It is not well to lunch at any hour of the day, as everyone knows, but there are times when one is restless or bored, that something to nibble on, something refreshing and light, seems the one way to relieve the tediousness.

Keep Spiced Pears on Hand.
How about keeping a jar of spiced pears or apple pickles on hand? Here is a recipe, easy to follow:

Wash two dozen hard green cooking pears, peel them, but leave the stems, and stick four cloves into each. Cover a few of the pears with sirup of the following ingredients which has been boiled 6 minutes: Eight cups sugar, three cups vinegar, one teaspoon mustard, a few pieces of stick cinnamon.

Boil pears in liquid until soft. Remove and cook remainder of pears in the same sirup. Add more sugar dissolved in vinegar to juice in kettle, if amount left is insufficient to cook all the fruit.

CHIC FALL HATS

You've seen them—in the windows; and from now on, they will appear more and more frequently upon the streets. In a sense, they are indescribable—these chic fall hats—because they confine to no one style, rolled back brim, beret, helmet, flowered or feather, but combine certain features of every style with many a twist and curve that gives them individuality.

Mostly, these hats are demure little creations in velvet and felt as decreed by French creators. They are found in bright autumn colors, white, or black and white.

TOPPY'S TRAVELS

Synopsis: Toppo leaves home to follow his canary. After many adventures, he and his friends, Mr. Frog and Toy, the dewdrop, and an army of Cloud-people, whose land the Pillows have invaded, defeat the Pillows with the aid of the Cushions. Toppo's friend, the falcon, is rescued from the Pillows. Continue the story—

The falcon grinned in delight at seeing Toppo again, and chuckled faintly, but said nothing. A voice behind Toppo snapped, "Simpleton, can't you see that he is starving? The compliments can wait."

There was Mr. Frog with his hands full of food. The poor falcon's eyes gleamed as he took the food and thanked Mr. Frog for his kindness. "You are a friend, too," he said gratefully.

"Boosh!" cried Mr. Frog. "I wouldn't let even simpletons like Toppo go without food, when they were starving."

As Toppo opened his mouth to speak, the frog broke in, "No time to argue. There comes another band of Pillows."

Toppo marshalled his troops in order, gave his directions, and before long the enemy was safely imprisoned within the courtyard. After the battle, Cushion leaders came to Toppo, with praises for his bravery.

"We would have died, or been kept captives for the remainder of our lives, and the Pillows would have conquered our land, as well as the land of the Cloud-people. How can we ever thank you?"

"It is not all due to me," Toppo said modestly. "All my friends have been faithful helpers. The Cloud-people have been loyal, and I couldn't have accomplished a thing without Mr. Frog and Toy. The falcon helped, too," he added, as he saw the Cushions glance doubtfully at the bird.

Presently another band of Pillows approached the gates of the court, but Toppo and his men overcame them, and drove them into the courtyard. All day long the battles continued, until by night the gardens and courts of the Cushion palace grounds were filled with Pillows, who rushed around angrily because their plans had failed, and they had been surprised into surrender.

"There won't be many more Pillows to come, now," Toy told Toppo. "We'll let the Pillows stay there awhile, until they are perfectly willing to surrender unconditionally."

"Fine!" Toppo exclaimed. "But where is the Pillow Queen and Egg-pil?"

"Somewhere inside the palace, I suppose," Toy answered.

"But aren't there some Cushions still locked up in the Palace, too?" Toppo worried.

"I'm afraid so, but don't worry, Toppo. Remember that we can go for a long time without food, much longer than the Pillows. After the Pillows surrender, we will save our soldiers," said Toy cheerily.

"But what if the Pillows kill them?"

"The Pillows, remember, do not kill, except when unavoidable, or in self-defense, or in the heat of battle, when they cannot see their victims. You haven't forgotten their superstition?"

"No," answered Toppo. "I suppose that is one reason why they have never captured your people before. They are much stronger, you know."

"That is one reason, and another is that our Queen's secret pool always warned her before."

"Oh, yes, I had almost forgotten," said Toppo. "Won't the Queen be happy after the Pillows surrender? We must send some soldiers to fetch her at once."

Isn't it about time for the stores to start suggesting: "Do your Christmas shopping early?"

Editorial
When a traveling man offers to sell you roofing at what he says is a low price it's mighty easy just to stop to the telephone and check up his price with the price of a local dealer. And remember—the local dealers will be there next year, and the year after, to see that roofing he sells makes good.

We like these musical auto horns;
We hope there are lots of 'em soon;
They're nice and polite,
And they play such a cute little tune.

A mathematician has figured out that for every 100 people who ask, "Is it hot enough for you?" 99 answer, "Well, any; how, it's good for the farmers."

Another way to spend a two week vacation is to read ALL of a Sunday newspaper.

Factory managers often spend thousands of dollars to achieve efficiency in operation. The modern farmer, too, is turning his eyes in that direction. A little planning now is sure to result in great savings later. Are you working to a plan?

Is there anything more pathetic than a horse on an auto-mobilo radiator?

I'll never forget the night you proposed to me—you were like a fish out of water.
"I was," he answered. "A sucker!"

If we can increase the efficiency of the coal you buy, it may mean that you will buy less coal. But that's all right! Our job is to deliver you maximum heat for the money you invest with us.

There are many different grades of coal. They are graded on the basis of heat units. Some have more, some have less. The prices vary according to the amount of heat the coal is capable of delivering to you. You got the grade you pay for.

Have you heard that crackling sound lately on the edges of town? That's just the corn growing.

DISMISS SUSPECT IN SILVER LAKE MURDER CASE

Fail to Identify Indiana Man as Slayer; Search Continues

Since witnesses were unable to identify John Williams, of Indianapolis, Ind., who was arrested by Kenosha authorities on the suspicion that he was the slayer of Mrs. Ann Patterson, former Antioch woman, officials have failed to unearth any other clues or locate possible suspects, although investigation is being continued.

Williams was released when witnesses declared that he was not the man who murdered his red-haired companion on a wild booze party and left her body near Silver lake two weeks ago.

Continue Search.

The man sought as the slayer is Lester "Blackie" Faust, known in Antioch and Lake Villa where Faust and Mrs. Patterson lived as man and wife for two years, as Lester Williams.

The couple came to Lake Villa in the fall of 1929, shortly after Faust had been released from the Waupun penitentiary, where he had served a 3-year sentence. Faust worked for a contracting company. Early in 1930, he and his companion rented a house on Main street and opened a boarding house. They moved to Antioch last fall.

The murder was witnessed by Mrs. Alma Ledbetter and Nels Nelson, of Chicago, companions on an alleged

Petition Fails; Father Frawley Leaves Antioch

The Rev. F. M. Flaherty Is Successor, Cardinal
Announces

Efforts of parishioners of St. Peter's Catholic church to persuade Cardinal Mundelein to retract his decree that Father Daniel Frawley pastor of the local church for three years, must recede to Saint Jerome's parish in Chicago September 1, have failed. Father Frawley left Tuesday.

The Reverend F. M. Flaherty, assistant pastor at Holy Name cathedral, Chicago, for four years, will be his successor, Cardinal Mundelein announced.

Although his new appointment is considered an advancement, Father Frawley was reluctant to leave Antioch, where he has made many loyal friends. He feels particularly attached to this parish, as he was the principal sponsor of the move which resulted in the erection of the new $275,000 church and parish home.

The church building fund now only lacks about $10,000 of the original figure. A last successful church benefit affair was held Sunday with a steak and barbecue picnic at Ray Prenger's, Grass lake, in Father Frawley's honor.

Following the death three years ago of Father J. E. Lynch, pastor for twenty years, Father Frawley was sent to Antioch.

tour of resorts in northern Illinois and southern Wisconsin. They are being held in the Kenosha county jail.

ANTIOCH SCHOOLS TO OPEN TUESDAY

One Change Is Made in the Personnel of High School
Instructors for Term

60 FRESHMEN REGISTER

Students of the Antioch township high school and grade school will be called for their summer activities to resume study next Tuesday. Principals L. O. Bright and Ralph Clabaugh have announced.

Preliminary registration at the Antioch township high school Tuesday totaled about 175, but, as many students were out of town or unable to be at the high school, it is expected that after the commencement of school the enrollment will total over 200. Sixty freshmen were registered this week.

There is only one change in the personnel of high school instructors this year, Miss Ruth Harrower, of Chicago, a graduate of the University of Illinois, replacing Miss Lillian Schroder, of Lake Forest. She will teach English and French.

Teachers Return.

All the other teachers have been re-engaged and will take charge of their various classes Tuesday, as follows: Miss Alice Smith, Latin and history; Mrs. Gladys Dardenne, commercial work; Mrs. Ruby Richey, home economics; E. V. Jeffers, music; C. L. Kuttli, agricultural subjects; Miss Cornelia Roberts, English and history; G. G. Reed, athletics and sciences; Fred Hackett, industrial arts and radio; H. H. Reichers, mathematics; Hans von Holwege, instrumental instruction; L. O. Bright, principal, chemistry and economics.

One Change at Grade School.

With the exception of Miss Elizabeth Touten, who is replaced by Miss Mary Galger, of Lake Villa, as instructor of the second grade, all of the grade school teachers will return. Ralph Clabaugh, who succeeded W. C. Petty as principal when he took over his duties as county superintendent of rural public instruction last March, will head the school again this term and will assist Miss Alice Warner, of Whitewater, Wis., as eighth grade instructor.

Miss Mildred Byrnes, of Fond du Lac, Wis., will teach the seventh grade; Miss Isabelle Harwood, of Normal, Ill., sixth grade; Miss Eleanor Meyers, of Lexington, Ill., fifth grade; Miss Ayleen Wilson, of Southland, Ky., fourth; Miss Julia Stricker, of Middleton, Wis., third; Miss Mary Galger, second; and Mrs. Fern Lux, first.

The enrollment will not be determined until next week.

Heart Failure Takes Channel Lake Vacationer

E. A. Biegus, 41, Chicago
Fireman, Succumbs
Suddenly

After suffering but a short time, Edward A. Biegus, 4817 Herst street, passed away at his summer home at Channel lake from a sudden heart attack late Sunday afternoon.

Biegus had served as a fireman of the Chicago department for twenty years, and as a lieutenant for five years, and was qualified to receive a pension.

He had been spending ten days on a vacation with his wife and children. Sunday afternoon he enjoyed a game of ball with his children, but at supper time complained of not feeling well, and went into his bedroom to rest. An hour later he was found dead by his wife.

Mrs. Biegus stated at the inquest that her husband had always believed himself in good health, and was unaware of any heart ailment.

He is survived by his wife and four children. The body was taken to the Chicago home, where funeral services were held Tuesday.

ANTIOCH MOOSE SPONSOR FIRST ANNUAL CARNIVAL

Gala 4-Day Entertainment Is Planned by the Committee

A big carnival, sponsored by the Moose lodge, will transform Antioch into an amusement center, gay with holiday crowds and brilliant lights, over the Labor Day holidays. The carnival begins tomorrow night, and will be in progress for four big nights on the grounds south of the Antioch Sales and Service station.

The Antioch Moose have been organized for less than a year, but their membership has grown so rapidly, and such interest and co-operation has been displayed, that the lodge feels assured of its ability to put over a mammoth carnival successfully for the pleasure of Antioch people and Labor Day crowds.

Committee Active.

The members of the entertainment committee have been making all efforts to secure the best in amusements, and promise a fine program of entertainment. They plan to make the carnival an annual affair.

Arrangements have been made with the Williams carnival company to provide music, special entertainment acts, and three big rides, which are necessary to the success of any fair or carnival. Booths, concessions and bright lights will mark the grounds as the scene of fun.

Anticipate Crowds.

O. E. Hachmeister, dictator of the Moose lodge and chairman of the committee, is expecting a throng of the Moose members and their families throughout the country, as well as the usual Labor Day crowds to flock to Antioch and participate in the festivities before the summer season closes.

Other members of the committee are William Van der Linde, W. H. Murphy, Lester Nelson, William Morley and Henry Reinke.

State Auditor Grilled In State Bank Quiz

Fowler, former Chicago alderman and now a Waukegan realty dealer, as foreman, has been conducting an investigation of the Waukegan bank for several weeks. True bills have already been voted by the jury against three former officers of the bank—Carl Stenger, chairman of the board; Norman O. Geyer, president, and John Murray Connors, vice president.

In the inquiry centering on the reorganization of the bank last November under the auditor's direction, Colonel Smith declares that an audit just completed by his investigators indicates that at the time of reorganization the bank was already insolvent.

The Waukegan bank closed on June 17 with deposit liabilities of $1,224,000 and cash on hand of $38,000. It is said that Stenger and Geyer accepted deposits until 15 minutes after closing time on that date, although they knew the bank was "busted."

Public Funds in Bank.

Approximately $723,000 in public funds was on deposit in the bank when it closed, it was learned yesterday.

Public funds on deposits were as follows: County treasurer, $367,000; county sheriff, $7,619; Waukegan city treasurer, $223,000; secretary of state, $15,000; state treasurer, $35,000; Waukegan township treasurer, $16,000; county superintendent of schools, $4,125; Waukegan park board, $55,000; Waukegan high school, $1,075.

Depositors Testify.

Among witnesses called yesterday were T. J. Stahl, president of the Waukegan park district, that had $55,000 on deposit in the bank; Edward Durkin, a director up to about a year ago; James Reeves, a director who already had been called; Sam LaSalle, Harry Gordon, and E. A. Judd, head of the telephone company, who has been asked to produce records of calls for June 16 and June 17 between the Waukegan bank and its Chicago clearing house.

George Woodruff, former president of the National Bank of the Republic, has thus far successfully dodged subpoenaed servers it is reported. Another interesting current rumor is that C. E. Staley, former president of the Peoples' Bank is on his way here from Hastings, Neb., to confer with Colonel Smith.

Smith Answers Accusation.

In reply to Auditor Nelson's remark that Smith was conducting the bank investigation as a political gesture, the state's attorney said:

"Although I am not a candidate for Congress, I am not greatly concerned over the inference. But I would like to call Mr. Nelson's attention to the fact that a grand jury composed of many of Lake county's leading citizens has taken this probe into its own hands and is making a courageous investigation. Mr. Nelson's own political experience stands him in good stead in such controversies."

The grand jury, it was learned, expressed considerable indignation when informed of Mr. Nelson's statement, taking it as a slur upon their investigation.

A WANDERING BOY, WITHOUT A HOME, FOUND BY BROGRAN

A 15-year-old Chicago boy, whose stepmother died two months ago, leaving him to wander about, homeless, is now under the care of Patrolman H. J. Brogran, until a suitable home is found.

The boy recently had come to Channel lake with some people he knew, after doing the best he could in his home neighborhood. He had no relatives or friends to whom he could go, a search revealed. He was found wandering alone, Monday, and Officer Brogran offered to give him a home for a few days. He is Stanley Zalske Jr.

ZIP THE ZEBRA

One time when I was on a cruise to th' west coast of Africa, Perk' Swipes, a shipmate of mine, and I went ashore to stir things up a bit. Well s'r, we were wanderin' 'long a road when a native drivin' a zebra hitched to a cart hove alongside of us and asked us if we wouldn't like to drive it. We were willin' to try anything once so we piled into th' cart and he hopped out.

Then th' fun began. That zebra was full of dynamite. Down th' road we tore, with Perk' hangin' onto th' lines and yellin' like a wild Indian. Two natives, a fat one carryin' a pig and a skinny one, were walkin' in th' road ahead of us.

After we'd passed 'em th' natives were turning somersaults in th' air and th' pig was hangin' 'round Perk's neck. Right after that a wheel of th' cart hit a rock in th' road. Bam! That made th' zebra mad. Up went his heels. Wham! Up went th' cart right into a nearby river. Th' zebra gave us th' laugh, kicked up his heels and lit out. And there we were, floatin' down th' river in a cart. Then, I'll be dingbusted if a few hours later we didn't drift out into th' ocean and almost alongside of our ship. We used our hands for paddles and were soon aboard. I've never liked zebras since.
